

Subject _____ Date _____ Time spent _____

Write everything you know — no notes, no peeking.

Pen down everything you know · then flip over for the 5-step process

How to Blur — 5 Steps

Turn a blank page into rock-solid recall. Follow in order.

1

Pick a topic

Choose one specific topic from your specification — not a whole subject. Write it in the box on the front.

2

Blurt

Close your books. Set a timer (5–10 minutes) and write down everything you remember about the topic on the front page.

Don't stop to check facts — just get it all out first.

3

Mark it up — different colour pen

Switch to a different coloured pen. Circle or underline anything you're unsure of, questions that come to mind, and any gaps you notice.

4

Check & add

Now open your textbook and notes. Fill in the gaps you marked, correct any mistakes, and add missing detail — still on the front page.

5

Compose your final answer

Check trusted resources (spec, mark scheme, revision guide) for what a strong answer should include, then write a clear, complete version of your answer.